

I understand that SBG is requiring its stations to air a bit of anti-Kerry propaganda on the eve of the presidential election. As this kind of thing is not news but partisan, I am sure that our democracy is best served by enforcing the law and the spirit of the law which demands equal time for Kerry's side. Do I need to add that "Kerry's time" should be in an equally good time slot before the election? Alternatively, it would only be fair if SBG were required to not put the propaganda on the air.
